

SOUTH AND THE FLAG.

THE Eloquent Speech of Dr. J. William Jones.

At the Flag Raising in Chattanooga. Beautiful Reference to the Loyalty of Confederates to Old Glory.

As there has been a very general inquiry for the full text of the speech made upon the occasion of the raising of the "Old Glory" in Chattanooga, the Times gives here a verbatim report of the speech. Major Ochs, of Chattanooga, had made a brief and appropriate introductory address. The ladies played national airs, and the flag was run up amid shouts of approval, and the shouts of the vast crowd, which packed the spacious grounds square.

Rev. Dr. William Jones, of Chicago, was then introduced, and made a full and eloquent address upon the flag and this great country of ours.

"There was evidently some curiosity on the part of his hearers as to what was so intense a Confederate as Dr. Jones is known to be, would say under the circumstances. He spoke as follows:

DR. JONES' ADDRESS. I count myself happy in being permitted to have some part in the exercises of this joyous occasion, and to join with you in greeting, with glad acclaim, the flag of our country.

I have listened with great pleasure to the eloquent words of my distinguished brother from the great Northwest, and have given my hearty "Amen" to the sentiments he has expressed. And when, just now, "old glory" was given to the breeze, my heart, as well as my voice, joined in the cheer, with which this vast crowd greeted her.

And why should I not feel the profoundest interest in, the deepest loyalty to, and the warmest love for the old flag?

I was born and reared and educated on the soil of old Virginia—pride of her halcyon memories, her cherished traditions, her glorious history, and the fact that you who have a better right to hallow for the purpose and principles, and then represented just the opposite of what we have fought for in '76, and all I have to say about that period of our history is that the Confederates thought they were right, and that they were right.

But when we were at last "compelled" to yield to overwhelming numbers and resources, and we were decided that henceforth there should be but one country and one flag, the soldiers and people of the South, instead of spending their time taking in the ashes of their blighted hopes and ruined fortunes, turned their backs to their waste places, and made their deserts to "rejoice and blossom as the rose," and have proven themselves to be good citizens as loyal to the country and the flag as any of any other section.

When our chivalric Senator John B. Gordon, of Georgia, commander of the United Confederate Veterans, rose in his place in the Senate, and pleaded the Government that "they were ready to do their full share towards 'suppressing the rebellion' at Chicago, and 'our lame lion' the eloquent Senator of Virginia, offered resolutions pledging the President the support of the whole country in suppressing violence there—they but echo the sentiments of our Southland. And when some weeks ago, the Senate, in view of threatened war with England, voted to delay the tardy justice of removing the last vestige of Confederate disabilities, so that all of our brave soldiers, who served in our armies, and the House, after long waiting, passed the bill with only one dissenting vote (Mr. Boutwell of Maine), they knew that they were doing a safe and proper thing, and that if forever we should come into a peaceful relation with England, the battle, done their duty as bravely, and as well as those from any other section.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT. That was a touching scene up on the Happpahuback when the Confederates and Unionists confronted each other on the opposite heights of Spotsylvania and Stafford. One beautiful evening there came down to the northern side of the river, a Federal band, and began to discourse sweet music. Large

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

THE BROOD MARES AND FOALS OF 1896 AT WHITBY FARM.

Among Them a Sister to Miss Nelson—Romanian Winner—St. Saviour in Kentucky—Charaxes to Be Retired.

The paddocks and pastures are well set with nutritious grasses at Whitby Farm, and the hay crop from the meadow lands, promises to be a large one and of choice quality.

The horses are in fine health, and the new arrivals foals are a likely lot. There is some good material in the brood mare land, which includes Miss Lassiter, dam of Miss Nelson, 2:12-1-4, with a half sister to her, a foal, at her side, a bay filly, three months old, shapely and handsome in form and sprightly in appearance; Prosty Maid, by Joe Downing, out of Lady Tania, dam of Rinaldo, 2:20-1-4, by Mambrino Patchen, has a foal, a bay filly, three months old, shapely and handsome in form and sprightly in appearance; Prosty Maid, by Joe Downing, out of Lady Tania, dam of Rinaldo, 2:20-1-4, by Mambrino Patchen, has a foal, a bay filly, three months old, shapely and handsome in form and sprightly in appearance.

his get are some high-class roadsters. Havelok's fastest son, Prince Purdy, trotted to a record of 2:13-1-4 in 1895, and Havelok, Jr., earned a mark of 2:23-1-4 at the same time. One of the choicest members of Mr. McDonald's collection is Virginia McDonald, 2:25, by Omega, dam Blue Grass Girl, sister to Blue Grass Hambletonian, 2:19-3-4.

The four year old brown stallion Loudon, by Norfolk, dam Gypsy Pattern, by Messenger Duroe, is approaching winning form in the hands of C. A. Pusey, who looks upon him as the making of a fast horse. Pusey started Loudon at the Gentlemen's Driving Park, Baltimore, and set fourth money with the son of Norfolk.

The four year old bay gelding, Corbet, full brother to Marende, 2:17-1-4, by Walker Morrill, that paced to a record of 2:23-1-4, in 1895, is a much improved horse this season. He was gelded after the close of the campaign and will undoubtedly be much faster than Marende, Corbet won the 2:25 pace over a field of sixteen at the Gentlemen's Driving Park, Baltimore, and the week following at Pimlico defeated a field of 19 in the same class, winning the second time, his and fourth heats and race, pacing each heat in 2:45-1-4. In the first heat he was sent in several lengths in the rear of the field, finishing in second place, and pacing in 2:51-1-4 each, when the time of the sulky came off. His driver John T. Biggs was thrown out, and a run away was the result.

The chestnut gelding Clipper, by Melville Chief, dam the Stockard mare, breeding untraced, is quite a good horse this season, probably better than during any previous one in his career. He won the 2:25 pace at Pimlico, and the time of the sulky came off. His driver John T. Biggs was thrown out, and a run away was the result.

The chestnut gelding Clipper, by Melville Chief, dam the Stockard mare, breeding untraced, is quite a good horse this season, probably better than during any previous one in his career. He won the 2:25 pace at Pimlico, and the time of the sulky came off. His driver John T. Biggs was thrown out, and a run away was the result.
